Dear Sam Dunning,

Further to your request for information, please be advised that question 1 cannot be answered in its current format as it is not asking for specific information currently held by the College. For further information please see p.12-14, specifically the section 'Description of the information', in the ICO Guidance attached to assist you in making your request valid.

Regarding question 2, the information you have requested is already reasonably accessible via the King's College London's website. The information has therefore been withheld under Section 21 of the FOIA ('information reasonably accessible to the applicant by other means').

You can access the College Council agenda and minutes here:

<https://www.kcl.ac.uk/about/governance-policies-and-procedures/college-council/agenda-and-minutes>

This completes the university's response to your information request, and it has been closed. However, you are welcome to submit a new Freedom of Information (FOI) request at any time.

Kind Regards,

[Redacted Signature]
